

Chicago to Lake Area Commuter Plan Nears Goal

Commerce Commission Hearing Will Make Final Decision in Matter

At a special meeting of the Antioch Lions club Monday evening, which all members are being urged by President Robert King to attend, the progress of efforts to secure Chicago-Lake region bus service for the summer will be reviewed.

Th possibility has been announced that the American Coach company motor bus lines may be able to co-operate in these plans.

Co-operation of village boards in Antioch and Lake Villa is being sought.

To Attend Hearing

A hearing in this matter is to be held by the commerce commission some day next week in Chicago, and representatives of the Lions club and of the Lake region communities are planning to attend.

They will include Dan S. Boyer, chairman of the Lions committee; H. J. Hooper, Lake Villa druggist; Ed. E. Vos of the Antioch Lumber and Coal company; former representative Richard J. Lyons; and Senator Ray Laddock of the Eighth district.

An effort will be made to have direct Chicago service by May 15, the date Lake region service is started by the American Coach company.

President Gerner of the company has expressed himself in favor of the project, and it is believed that if a favorable hearing is received from the commerce commission there will be no difficulties in starting the direct service by the middle of May.

The support of persons who commute by automobile from the lake area to Chicago, as well as that of potential Chicago visitors to the lake region, is being sought.

The Greyhound bus lines had also considered the possibility of re-routing some of their through-buses by way of the lake region, but felt that this would disrupt their schedules.

Question of Good Friday Closing for Next Year Is Given Local Attention

While it was felt it is too late for definite plans in this respect to be made this year, the possibility has been suggested by business and professional people of Antioch that next year on Good Friday business establishments be closed for an hour, during the afternoon in reverence for the significance of the day.

The custom of closing business establishments for an hour on Good Friday is observed by many communities. These include Melhara, Ill., and Kenosha, Wis. The hour from 1:30 to 2:30 or from 1 to 2 is that generally observed.

Inquiries made by the News this week indicated that business establishments of Antioch would not be opposed to such an observance, since it was felt that in war time especially the consolation of religion is greatly needed, and there is an increased feeling of reverence for the significance of spiritual things.

The News will be interested in receiving the views of business establishments and individuals in this matter.

EDUCATOR TO SPEAK BEFORE WOMAN'S CLUB

What is Freedom? is the subject of a Viggo Hovlyerg of the International College of Education, Evanston, has chosen for the talk he will give for the Antioch-Woman's club Monday afternoon.

The meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Ned Grimes at Cedarcrest.

Assisting Mrs. Grimes as co-hostesses will be Mrs. C. L. Kutil, Mrs. Fred Swanson and Mrs. Walter French.

The mayor has kindly given the Salvation Army permission to have a tag day on Saturday, April 4. A group of young people will call on you with tags and we ask you to be generous in your giving to this worthy cause.

Don't fail to attend the big Easter Monday card party at St. Peter's hall. Sponsored by Altar and Rosary society, April 6 at 8 p. m. Bridge, five hundred, bunco, pinocle, refreshments, prizes. Admission 35 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Patterson have as their house-guest this week Miss Laura Stader of Shelby, Mich., who is stopping here en route to Yakima, Washington.

New anklets received, Nylon toes and heels, 35c a pair; all colors, all sizes. MarieAnne's, Antioch, Libertyville.

CANDIDATES FILE FOR HIGH SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERSHIP

Three Aspirants for the Two Vacancies—Election April 11

Three candidates will compete for membership on the Antioch Township High school board of education at the election to be held on Saturday, April 11, according to petitions of candidacy filed with the secretary, Mrs. Lester Osmond. Two vacancies occur this year due to the expiration of the three-year terms of Paul Chase and Lieutenant James McMillen. Chase is a candidate for re-election, and the new entries are Ernest H. Glenn and Fred Scott.

Mr. McMillen is not a candidate. His duties as athletic director at Navy Pier in Chicago occupy his entire time, and he would find it inconvenient to attend meetings of the school board and to give the office the attention it should have.

ADVANCED RED CROSS CLASSES FOR WOMEN START THIS WEEK

Three Classes Graduated from Standard Course, Continue Studies

Advanced Red Cross first aid courses for three women's classes were being started this week under the charge of Lieut. Herman Rosing of the rescue squad and instructor Harry Greenlee.

The five-week advanced course will deal largely with practical application of first aid knowledge gained by the classes during the ten-week standard course, for which they took their final examinations last week.

Members of the women's class taking the examination Friday evening were:

Mrs. J. E. Lynn and Beth Williamson of Lake Villa; Viola Hickey, Peg Webb, Georgia Nelson, Lora Bacon, Edith Ehm, Fanny Yates, Priscilla King, Irene Pachay, Betty Hays, Mrs. H. J. Krueger, Vera Reutter, Betty Williams, Mrs. Alma Young, Helen Zeien, Charlene Jorgensen, Florence Peterson, Deborah Van Patten, Mrs. J. E. Charles, Mrs. B. R. Burke.

The class was taught by Rosing.

Junior Do Fine Work

Two classes took the examinations last Tuesday evening.

What is believed to be the only class of Junior Red Cross first aid students in Lake county, also meeting on Friday evenings, passed its examinations with flying colors.

While the Junior course requires only 15 hours of work, this group under the charge of Instructor Greenlee, showed exceptional enthusiasm and put in time nearly equivalent to the senior course of 20 hours.

Composed of seventh and eighth grade girls from Antioch Grade school, the class displayed aptitude and conscientiousness, as well as fine co-operation, in its work, Instructor Greenlee stated.

The members of the class included Jane Nelson, Joan Felter, Jeanne Vos, Rose Mary Morley, Gertrude Hawkins, Jane Spangard, Vida Haley, Barbara Horton, Doris Hieber, Olga Himeins, Mary Jean Mapletorpe, Thelma Longley, Darlene Bauer, Elmore Sobey, Mary Ellis, Gloria Patrovsky, Bernice Palaske.

The examinations were conducted by Capt. Herman Hobeck of the rescue squad, who praised the manner in which the classes demonstrated the application of first aid.

Because of the absence of Greenlee, who was called to Channel Lake, the two Tuesday evening classes held their first lesson in advanced work jointly, under the charge of Rosing. In order to facilitate carrying out the advanced work by groups, there is a possibility that the Tuesday evening classes may continue to meet jointly, under the charge of the two instructors.

Plans for the Friday evening class will be outlined at its meeting tomorrow night.

A MISTAKE IN LOCATION

REHEARSALS FOR SENIOR PLAY ARE HECTIC AFFAIRS

Production to Be Given Apr. 9-10 in Throes of Preparation

(By Martha Winch)

Come backstage at A. T. H. S. with us and watch a typical rehearsal of the senior play "Moonshine and Honey-suckle," to be presented under the direction of Mrs. Marguerite K. Phillips on Thursday and Friday, April 9 and 10.

Here on the stage are groups of young actors and actresses, members of the stage crew, and the capable producer-director, Mrs. Phillips. Before the class bell sounds students seem stricken with an insatiable desire for rest and relaxation, for they are strewn about on chairs and sofas (the Drama Department is hard on sofas) in attitudes which can be assumed only by high school students with a certain disregard for the laws of good posture and of gravity.

Mrs. Phillips takes her accustomed chair down front center, facing the stage. Voluminous scripts appear as if by magic in the hands of the previously so sympathetic and weary appearing students, and the rehearsal is on.

While Mrs. Phillips and one group of students are working on one scene from the play, with "yes" and "no" lying thick and fast (for the play is of the hill people), another group is repeating speeches with great gusto, only pausing now and then to take a breath or turn a page of their script; still another group of actors and actresses may be sitting on the sidelines, intent on the group now performing, and awaiting their own cues. New and then someone is sure to wander in to consult Mrs. Phillips about the length of a costume, the wording of a poster, or any of the hundred and one other questions which directors of senior plays are familiar with.

All this sounds very business-like, as it is, but be sure that "horse play" is not lacking during these rehearsals. In some scenes of the play the characters are obliged to tote "airin' airs," and said weapons get a heavy workout by students whose sense of humor prompts them to take stick-ups and similar goings-on. Puns a la Bob Hope and ad lib Red Skeltoning keeps a smile on everyone's face.

As rehearsals progress, you can see that the students really love to work on this play, and their interested co-operation, together with the fine direction of Mrs. Phillips and the equally fine handlings of properties and equipment by the stage crew, are bound to make "Moonshine and Honey-suckle" a really entertaining production.

You can get your ticket for the play from any senior—the price for adults is 35c, for students and children, 17c.

Students Qualify for State Tournament at Proviso Meeting

(By Rose Marie Zellhofer)

"And Then Percival Painted" by Grace Michael, directed by Marguerite K. Phillips, received second place in the contest plays presented at Proviso Township High school Saturday. The Judge, Richard Saunders of the Northwestern university theatre production staff, remarked that Elaine Nelson, who portrayed the part of Grandmother, gave an example of the best acting he had ever seen by a high school student.

The fine voice and the handling of clever lines perfectly by Howard Hageman, who played the part of Percival, were highly praised by the judge. Sybil Johnson, the mother, and Billy White, the detective, also received a rating for their acting. The plays, to receive an A rating, must have all actors consistent in their characters. Labor on the Farm

The farm labor problem grows steadily more severe. High industrial wages have attracted a great proportion of the men who used to do farm work. And the farmer must pay big money even to incompetents.

As a result, the increase that has taken place in farm prices has been largely offset by the higher cost of labor—plus the higher cost of taxation, supplies, and everything else.

The cooperative marketing organizations are doing a good job in presenting these facts to the public. They are facts that must be taken into consideration when farm price ceilings are applied. The public must realize that a higher price for farm-produced goods does not necessarily mean a larger—or as large—a return to the farmer.

Question of Age

Most people remember the fight over the alleged "court packing" bill of a few years ago. This is over and forgotten and in the interests of unity we do not intend to resurrect it. However, we are reminded of the fact that one of the criticisms of the Supreme Court was that the members were too old for service as jurists. One book was put out under a title of the "Nine Old Men" and the phrase was popularized by those who were seeking new legislation on the Supreme Court.

At that time we were informed that younger blood was needed, and this was much urged by the New Dealers who were then, as now, in charge of the government. But this leads to the comment that the Presidential Cabinet, now that we are engaged in the greatest war in history, is by no means composed of men who could be classified as "spring chickens." Three are sixty-eight years of age and one is nearing the age of seventy-one. Another, Secretary of War Stimson, will soon be seventy-five.

There is no attempt here to cast any aspersions on the physical or mental ability of any of these older men in the President's cabinet. We have never believed that age is a matter of years; and experience is usually valuable. Nor is a shakeup in the Cabinet recommended. President Roosevelt is commander-in-chief and any Cabinet members who would be appointed in the place of any resigning, would be men who see things as does the President or who would bow to his orders.

The point worth noting is that age, which was regarded as a drawback so far as justices of the Supreme Court are concerned seems no drawback where executive action is required in time of war.

"A couple of weeks ago," continued the venerable chuck, "I was out for a Sun bath when I heard a great clattering through the mud on the road leading from Antioch. Pretty soon a horse and saddle came in range of my vision and I saw it was George Hockney's but it had slipped its bridle. Bye and bye George came wallowing home through the mud, and found that the horse had got home an hour before him, but I guess George never said anything to his folks about it, so don't tell them Ben, as George never done me any harm and I don't like to hurt his feelings."

"Good bye Ben, take the best possible care of Mrs. Hockney's husband." Saying which the venerable chuck closed the door of his abode and locked it on the inside.

Ed. Note—The Observer out-observed—From Lights and Shadows column, by Boo Peep—

James Kaye, who, in his youth, was profoundly impressed with the incident in the life of Washington, relative to the cherry tree, vouches for the truth of the following narrative:

"Last week for the first time in nearly three years, Ben Hoystradt visited the Rector farm, just across the State line, now owned by C. E. Kelly. Ben had spent a number of years upon the farm and while there took special delight in shooting at woodchucks, one old fellow in particular was a source of great annoyance to Ben, who wasted fully a ton of ammunition in a futile effort to get the scamp of the chuck.

While Ben was wandering around the fields watching the meadow-moles mole and the chick-a-dee chick, a venerable chuck with whiskers shivered by the frosts of time, stuck his head out of the door of his habitation and said: "Hello Ben, how are you, I haven't seen you in three full sleeps!" Ben, with his usual politeness, doffed his cap and answered: "Fine and dandy, but who are you?"

"Me," said the chuck. "Why Ben, don't you know me? I'm the old chuck that you used to shoot at every day, only grown a little older and grayer; see," said he, holding up the stub of one of his forepaws, "that was a pretty close shave the time you shot that away, but that was the only time you ever came within a rod of me and I guess it was an accident." Continuing the chuck said: "I understand you live in Antioch, Ben, and would have visited you there only for this misfortune, (indicating his stubby paw) as Antioch must be quite a place judging from what I have heard Abe Crowley, Griff Culver, George Hockney and others say about it. But tell me Ben," said the chuck, "what sort of place is Schultz, Fabst, Van Matz, Ser-

ANTIOCH, ILLINOIS,

FIRST IN RESULTS TO ADVERTISERS

NUMBER 34

Primaries Are Regulated By Illinois Statute

GENERAL ELECTIONS ARE HELD EVERY EVEN NUMBERED YEAR

Party Candidates Will Be Voted on Tuesday, April 14

In Illinois there are two types of regular elections—the primary, the purpose of which is to nominate party candidates, and the general election at which candidates are elected to office.

Primary Elections

Primary elections are regulated by the primary law, which is liable to change at any session of the state legislature. Under the present law primaries are held on the second Tuesday in April every even numbered year for the nomination of party candidates that are to be voted upon at the election held on Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

The law provides that the primaries of all political parties be held at the same time and place and that the expense thereof shall be paid out of public funds in the same manner as in case of regular elections. At primary elections each party is provided with separate ballots bearing a distinctive color and containing the names of none but candidates of that party. The names of candidates are put upon their party ballots by petition and in the order in which the petitions are filed as required by law. General election officers have charge of the primaries.

Primaries apply to elective offices except presidential electors, university trustees, township (so called) and school officers.

Plurality Vote

The person receiving the highest number of votes at a primary election as a candidate of a party for a given office becomes the nominee of his party for such office by virtue of such vote. The votes are decided by lot as provided by law.

Every person desiring to vote at a primary election states his party affiliation, and a judge of election gives him one ballot of the party with which he declares himself to be affiliated.

Congress

The legislative powers of the national government are vested in a congress, which consists of a senate and a house of representatives. The life of a congress begins on the third day of January of every odd numbered year and is limited to two years.

Two Senators from Each State

In the senate, each state is represented by two senators. They are elected by the voters of the entire state as provided by the seventh amendment to the federal constitution. One-third of the senators are elected every even numbered year at the general election in November. They take office on the third of January following their election in November and serve for six years. Senators are eligible for re-election.

Illinois is represented in the senate by Senator C. Wayland Brooks, Republican, and Senator Scott Lucas, Democrat.

House of Representatives

The House of Representatives, sometimes spoken of as the lower house or merely as the house, is intended to represent the nation upon the basis of population, which has an equal representation from each state. The states are divided into congressional districts, and the original idea was that there should be one member of the house of representatives for every thirty thousand inhabitants; but as the population of the various states increased it was later decided definitely to fix the number of members without regard to a precise ratio of members to population. If a state legislature fails to provide for its increased representation by re-districting the state before any general election, the additional representatives are chosen by the voters of the state on a general ticket and are known as congressmen-at-large.

25 Districts in Illinois

Illinois has twenty-five congressional districts and two congressmen-at-large.

Representatives are elected every even numbered year at the general election in November, following the selection of party candidates at the primaries in April.

Many powers of government are vested solely in the House of Representatives.

All bills for raising of revenue must originate in the House. It has the Publication Laws Twice Ignored by Nelson in 1938

Used Non-Legal Organs for Delinquent Lists in Defiance of Law

(Reprinted from Antioch News March 19)

There has been some pretty fancy side-stepping of law in Lake county in recent years, including office holders interesting themselves in contracts in violation of the Illinois Corrupt Practices Act, and other infractions perpetrated for personal gain, about which the general public knows nothing, and probably never will, for those on the inside of the "deals" won't talk.

It remained, however, for Allen J. Nelson, former county treasurer and now clerk of the probate court, and a candidate for re-election to that office, to accomplish the masterpiece—the deluxe, streamlined job of slapping the law in the face back in 1938 in connection with the publication of assessment rolls and the real estate delinquent tax lists in several Lake county townships.

In order to facilitate a clearer understanding of Mr. Nelson's irregularity, it must be borne in mind that America is a Democracy—a government by law, not by men. No official can arbitrarily make his own rules for the conduct of his office—he must observe the law. Law is enacted by the people's representatives and is designed for the protection of citizens. Moreover, every official before assuming office must take an oath that he will perform the duties of his office in accordance with the law.

Let the record reveal how Nelson departed from the law and wronged thousands of property owners in 1938, his last year in office as treasurer of Lake county.

Here Is the Law

The law provides (Chapter 120, Article 584, Section 103) that the supervisor of assessments (county treasurer) shall cause to be published a full and complete list of personal and real property every fourth year (quadrennial assessment year) and in other years a complete list of personal property and a list of real estate for which assessments have been added or changed since the last preceding assessment. The publication is to be made each year on or before July 10 in a legally qualified newspaper of general circulation published in the county.

Provided, that in every township in which there is published one or more newspapers of general circulation, the list of such townships shall be published in one of said newspapers.

In connection with the publication of delinquent tax lists where judgment is to be rendered for the sale of real

STRONG CAMPAIGN ON TO RE-ELECT CONG. PADDOCK

Organizations and Individuals Work for His Return to Washington

A campaign of considerable proportions is taking place to have George A. Paddock retained as representative at Washington from the Tenth Illinois district.

Ex-service men, private individuals and organizations are joining forces to have the Evanston man re-elected for a second term.

James Simpson, Jr., state central committeeman from the Tenth district, is among those who are giving Paddock their support, and has issued the following statement:

"Today more than ever before it is necessary to have sound thinking men in Congress. George A. Paddock has an enviable record and we in the 10th district are proud of him. He has voted on every measure the way the vast majority of his constituents would have voted had they had the opportunity.

"He voted for every appropriation that would help arm our country, and only recently he had been instrumental in having more than $60,000,000 of

Judge Persons Eyes That Extra 12 "Grand"

The salary of county judge in Lake county is $6,000.00 a year, and a four-year term totals $24,000.00.

Judge Perry L. Persons, having qualified under the law by reason of age and time of service as a judge, could retire and receive an annuity of one-half of his present salary, or $3,000.00 a year for the remainder of his life. (Illinois Revised Statutes—Chapter 37, Article 5, Sec. 441.9)

The judge, if he retired voluntarily, or is defeated at the polls, would receive during the next four-year period a total of $12,000.00 as pension, whereas, if he is successful in his present campaign for re-election for the ninth term, he would receive $24,000.00 in salary for the same period. In other words, the difference between serving as county judge for the next four years, or not serving, would be exactly $12,000.00.

In considering Judge Persons' ambition to serve for another term after having been county judge for 32 years, it is deemed scarcely possible that he seeks further honor in the same office he has held for nearly a third of a century. Additional honor would come to him only with his election to a higher office. As county judge he has had all the honor it is possible for Lake county citizens to bestow.

Any claims of his super qualifications for the office may likewise be eliminated, for there are many men, and women, too, in Lake county who could serve capably and well as county judge. Even in the present campaign he is opposed by two of the county's most able lawyers.

With these and other possible incentives removed, there may yet remain one very powerful motive for the Judge wanting to remain in office—MONEY.

In terms of this world's good, Judge Persons is rich in houses and lands and other property; he has enough and to spare—more, it is said, than he will ever need. Then why is the judge a candidate to retain the office he has held for eight consecutive terms? Is it possible that he wants that extra 12 "grand" another term in office would mean to him? It's unbelievable.

The News has always associated the character of judges with the qualifications of church deacons as stated in the Bible 1 Timothy, 3:8-9: "Likewise must deacons be grave, not double-tongued, not given to much wine, NOT GREEDY OF FILTHY LUCRE, holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience."

Officials Required to Subscribe to Oath

Each elected county official, before entering upon the duties of his office, is required to take and subscribe and file with the county clerk, the following oath:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be), that I will support the constitution of the United States, and the constitution of the state of Illinois, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office according to the best of my ability."

Should Lake County Voters Favor Judge Persons With 9th Term on County Bench?

Political Party Defined

Primaries concern only the selection of party candidates who are to be voted on at the general election in November.

A political party which at the general election for state and county officers then next preceding a primary polled more than two per cent of the entire vote cast in the state is declared by law to be a political party within the state, and is permitted to nominate candidates for all offices and to elect precinct, ward, and state central committeemen.

Siver's Friends Are Proud of His Service Record

Candidate for Probate Clerk Is Deserving and Capable, Sponsors Say

It would be difficult indeed to find among candidates for elective office a more civic-minded person than Warren G. "Bud" Siver, secretary-treasurer of the Siver Hardware company of Waukegan, who is conducting an energetic and clean campaign for the Republican nomination for the office of clerk of the probate court.

Among Siver's best known civic activities is his work with the Waukegan

He was instrumental in raising a fund of over $3,000.00 for financing the band and starting it on the road to achieving its splendid reputation. Later, additional funds were raised by Siver and his associates for financing college courses for worthy young men.

Duty of Voter

It is the civic duty of every person who is eligible to receive a ballot in connection with any public affair, question, or office, to exercise this right, intelligently and honestly, at every election.

It is that person's duty as a citizen to investigate carefully and with an open mind, all questions, policies or platforms to be voted upon and to determine, so far as possible, the character and fitness of all candidates for public office.

The relations of the citizen to the state and of the state to the citizen are reciprocal. Each is responsible to the other with the citizen holding the ruling power by means of a ballot. Since all benefits of government in the United States originate in the people themselves by means of the ballot, all power of government is derived from the people.

It is the voter's responsibility at all times to demand of those who are chosen to administer the government in its various functions that these public servants do so faithfully, efficiently, economically and without fear or favor.

Veteran Jurist Could Have Retired on Pension in 1939

NEWS SCANS OFFICIAL ACTS

(Reprinted from Antioch News March 5)

Should Judge Perry L. Persons, veteran county judge and dean of all Lake county office holders, be returned to office for a ninth term after having served continuously on the county bench since 1910, or should he, after 32 years in office, doff his judicial robe, accept the pension of $3000 per year, provided by the State of Illinois, to which he has been eligible since 1939, and retire? These are questions to be answered by the voters at the Republican primary election on April 14.

Lake county has been kind to Judge Persons. Eight times he has asked and has received the endorsement of the county electorate. It is the lot of but few men to attain the impressive service record as has Judge Persons. Now for the ninth time he asks the voters for preferment at the polls in the forthcoming election.

The county judge is regarded among his friends and acquaintances as an outstanding example of personal rectitude and integrity. He has been a stalwart in lodge and religious circles for over three decades. Moreover, he has been one of "the faithful" at social gatherings and church dinners, lending aid and support to scores of worthy causes during his career as county judge. All of which is good citizenship, good business, and good politics. . . . It is the conviction of the judge's friends that his personal record is spotless, and this opinion is shared by the News.

It is his official record that must determine his right to continue in office—the recorded record that is little known to the great majority of laymen—the common citizens who are not lawyers and who have not, and can not come into contact with all of the various matters coming under the court's jurisdiction. The recorded proceedings alone reveal these facts, and even these are subject to such interpretation as would seem best to fit the occasion.

Excellent Background

Many Lake county residents have never known a county judge other than Perry L. Persons, for many of them have been born and reared to voting age during the incumbent's tenure of office. Linked together for 32 years, the name Perry L. Persons and the county judgeship have become almost a tradition.

Local history reveals that Judge Persons was born in 1874 on a farm near Wadsworth and that he lived there and near Garne until he moved to Waukegan which since has been his home.

Admitted to practice of law in 1897, he served the city of Waukegan as police magistrate and as city attorney. In 1910 he was elected county judge, in which office, so states campaign advertising of later years, "he served the people of Lake county conscientiously and acceptably." The same campaign literature also modestly admits that "his ability as a jurist and his work in the county court are known throughout Illinois. His sympathy for the insane and his fatherly interest in dependent and delinquent children whom he tries to aid are known to and appreciated by everyone with whom the court has come in contact."

In a statement signed by Karl E. Swanburg, Laurence F. Biding and F. Earl Walton, who were designated as the "committee on publicity" in the 1934 campaign, this statement appears: "Our people are fortunate in his (Judge Persons') willingness to stand for re-election for the ensuing four-year term."

Sticklers for logic would construe from the foregoing statement that the then impending four-year term was literally being forced upon the judge against his will. But he did "accept" the four-year term and another one besides at the next election in 1938.

Thus it is revealed that Judge Persons, veteran of eight campaigns, has possessed the political shrewdness and the good fortune to secure the services of important persons to serve on his "campaign committees" and who over their own signatures have sponsored campaign literature that the judge evidently was too modest to voice.

Persons in Bootleg Era

For term after term during the early years of his judgeship, the incumbent pursued the even tenor of his way,

Industry and Ability Aided Doolen's Rise

Candidate for County Judge Made His Own Way at an Early Age

Paul D. Doolen, Republican candidate for county judge of Lake county, has served as probation officer of the Lake county circuit court, supervising attorney for the Home Owners' Loan corporation in northern Illinois, and as clerk to a judge of the Illinois appellate court. He has practiced law in Lake county since 1931.

He is a member of the Lake County Republican Central committee and has been active in Republican affairs in the county since 1931, but is seeking office for the first time.

He is a member of the Illinois State and Lake County Bar associations, the Waukegan-North Chicago real estate board, the J-M club and the Waukegan-North Chicago chamber of commerce. He is also active in the Waukegan University club, Delta Tau Delta, the Harvard club of Chicago and the Elks and Moose lodges.

Industry and ability have helped Doolen to make his way. He was born at Vernon, Ill., one of 12 children and, like Benjamin Franklin, is a 'seventh son of a seventh son.'

Managed Resort
For seven summers during his school years he managed a summer resort at Gages lake. He earned his way through the University of Illinois, where he was president of the Senior Honor society and the Athletic Board of Control. He was graduated from Harvard law school, and took up his practice in Lake county. He resides in Waukegan.

Doolen is married and has two children.

If elected Doolen pledges himself to:
1. Conduct a court so that litigants and lawyers will use it and thereby justify the present expense of it.
2. Deal fairly with all, and co-operate with law enforcing officials.
3. Humanely conduct and supervise delinquent cases.

Democrats Oppose Bolger; Endorse Koziol for Assembly

Claim Incumbent Has Made No Effort to Build up Democratic Party

Atkinson Well Qualified For Sheriff Office

Chief Deputy Has Served Sheriff's Department Since 1935

A member of the Lake county sheriff's staff since 1935 and chief deputy since December, 1938, Walter L. Atkinson, candidate for sheriff in the Republican primary election to be held April 14, is cited as having important qualifications of experience and ability.

Atkinson's political career began in 1921, when he was elected city treasurer of North Chicago.

He was elected mayor of North Chicago in 1925, serving for five successive terms. He retired from that office upon the expiration of his term in 1935, because during the preceding year he had accepted the post of financial deputy under Lawrence A. Doolittle, then sheriff of Lake county.

He was appointed chief deputy sheriff by Thomas E. Kennedy in 1938.

Atkinson was asked to become a candidate for sheriff at a meeting held recently by a group of 100 non-partisan voters who pledged him their support.

Born on a farm in Libertyville township, Oct. 19, 1892, Atkinson attended the public schools and Waukegan Township High school.

He now resides with his wife, Margaret, and children, Walter and Margaret, in their home at 1616 Park avenue, North Chicago.

In his youth Atkinson was fond of athletics, especially baseball, in which he created an enviable record. While employed in local industry his friends urged him to become a candidate for political office, and it was upon their advice that he began his political career.

over incumbent Tom Bolger of McHenry county, who has been in the legislature since 1930. Koziol, in addressing the Central committee, contended that Bolger during this time had made no real effort to build up the Democratic party in his own county and that this year they had no candidates in the field. He pledged to do whatever possible for the general party interests in Boone and McHenry counties, as well as in Lake county, if he were nominated and elected. Other candidates who were endorsed by the committee were:

United States Senator—Raymond McKeough
State Treasurer—W. D. Forsyth
Congressman-at-large—Benjamin S. Adamowski
State Supt. of Public Instruction—John A. Wieland
Congressman, 10th Dist.—Jack Baird
State Representative—Walter Koziol
County Judge—Philip W. Yager
County Clerk—Ivan R. Harlow
Probate Judge—Robert P. Sullivan
Probate Clerk—Charles Cernak, Jr.
County Treasurer—Anton Macrowski, Jr.
County Supt. of Schools—Henry C. Eads.

Rep. H. D. Kelsey Is Conscientious Representative

Lake Co. Man Has Made Outstanding Record in Legislature

Farmers, owners of small business concerns, labor groups and educators are among those who are said to be backing Harold D. Kelsey of Lake county to the Illinois state legislature for his third term as representative from the Eighth district.

Kelsey served as vice-chairman of the important committee on agriculture of which Rep. Dennis Collins, of DeKalb was chairman. Since Collins is now a candidate for the state senate, Kelsey, if re-elected will automatically step up to the chairmanship of the agriculture committee.

During each of his two terms he has been commended highly by the Illinois Agricultural association and, last August the Illinois Agricultural Association Record gave Kelsey 100 percent credit for his support of farm measures.

For his aid to small dealers, he was commended by the Federation of Retail Associations.

He has also been given substantial support by labor groups.

Kelsey has been endorsed by teachers and school boards for his 100 percent record on school legislation.

Kelsey feels that one of his worthwhile achievements in the legislature has been his part in bringing about needed reforms in the relief set-up in Illinois. He was a member of the Sixth Investigation commission and his recommendations were enacted into law.

He believes in devoting himself closely to his duties, and also in keeping in close touch with those he represents. Hundreds of requests received by him from all parts of the Eighth district have been given prompt attention by him.

Commended by Speaker
At the close of the last session of the legislature he received a letter of commendation from Speaker Elmer J. Schnackenberg and also one from the majority leader, F. W. Kennick, thanking him for the valuable aid he had given in the role of one of the assistant floor leaders—to which important post he had been assigned by the Republican leaders.

Kelsey "points" with considerable "pride" to his legislative record. During sessions of the 62nd general assembly, more than 2,000 bills were introduced. Hundreds of the bills received no consideration whatever, being regarded as without merit. The average number of bills passed per member was about three.

Kelsey, however, made an outstanding record in the number of bills he introduced and the number of bills which passed. Before offering any bill he carefully studied its merits. As a result, 14 of the 17 bills he sponsored became laws.

Judge Persons...

with never a candidate, either Democratic or Republican, successfully challenging his "right" to continuous tenure of the county bench. This did not just happen, without any effort on the part of the judge to keep himself in the county's most important office. It takes astute political vision to remain the champ, even in a county office.

It was back in the "drunken whoopee" era that the judge was first brought face to face with what political railbirds and office holders generally refer to as "political expediency." When many violations of the then newly enacted liquor code were brought to Judge Persons' court for trial he did not hear the cases. He called a McHenry county jurist, Judge David T. Smiley to preside. Was there a change of venue?

Why did not Judge Persons hear these cases? Was he ill, or did he have other pressing business? If ill, he could have continued the hearings. If he's the boss. And as to other business—well, the county judge is presumed to have no other business except the business of the court entrusted to him by Lake county citizens who elected him. (Names of defendants appear in the court record.)

Now, referring to the campaign statement in a paragraph above—"He served the people of Lake county conscientiously," how does the judge reconcile this little piece of "cross roads" business with his conscience?

Juvenile Delinquency

Again referring to the Judge's campaign utterances—(further interest in delinquent children)—how does he explain the fact that during the last five years he has committed 35 youthful offenders to the St. Charles "School of crime" when Lake County taxpayers pay for the maintenance of the Lake County Detention Home, the better place for handling a large number of the cases of first offenders? And why is it that 13 Lake County boys were committed there in the year 1941 without first exhausting the facilities for taking care of them locally?

Recently a reader wrote the News: "The fault for the so-called conditions at St. Charles may first be dumped into the laps of the judges. There is no segregation there—the toughest hoodlums from the city mingle with the little fellows who quite often are only first offenders and who may yet be saved providing they are not allowed to stay there more than over night."

It is well known that Judge Persons is a self-avowed authority on juvenile delinquency. Has he not made scores of addresses on the subject before the various youth groups among his constituents in Lake county? It is a great subject—this "juvenile delinquency." Far too serious to be used as a political campaign football.

How does the judge square his conscience with youth, many of whom he has condemned to finish their education for crime at St. Charles?

The Judge and Court Business

Lake County lawyers have told the News that the docket of the Circuit Court is clogged a great many times, which they say is due in part to lack of cooperation on the part of Judge Persons in the handling of scores of minor cases which could properly be disposed of in the County Court, with its jurisdiction in civil matters up to $200.00. The judge may have reasons for not co-operating in the disposition of these cases. For one thing, it relieves him of work, and in some instances it might even save him from political embarrassment at the next election.

More Campaign Technique

Judge Persons has been telling the voters that his court is a scene of perpetual and very busy activity and that it is necessary for him to open court at nine a. m. in order to get a full day's work done. His court docket would seem to beg out his claim, for through the practice of making docket entries of practically all juvenile complaints that come before him, that record appears quite voluminous, giving the appearance of much court business. Contrast this procedure with that of Judge Frank H. Beck of the Juvenile court of Chicago. Judge Birch is quoted in the Chicago Tribune March 30, as stating it is his policy to avoid giving the boys a "record" whenever possible so that the first complaint or two against a boy is "adjusted" and if he behaves thereafter no court entry is made.

Those in close contact with Persons' court have a different vision of how the judge is being overworked. In spite of his long and arduous hours on the bench he still has time to prosecute a vigorous last-ditch campaign for re-election, to manage his real estate interests, and he did take a little time off to look in on the amateur boxing show held in Libertyville recently. (Interested in youth, you know). It was noticeable, however, he left right after he had managed to have himself introduced.

The Judge and Dependency Cases

The legislature in its first session adopted an Act to provide aid to dependent children, placing the administration of the Act under the Department of Public Welfare, and providing supervision and support, in proper cases, to dependent children upon application for aid, without the necessity of a proceeding in the County Court, and permits the granting of aid in worthy cases, without the necessity of a Court proceeding or establishment of a Court record.

Among politicians who wish to perpetuate themselves in office, the passing out of assistance in any form has ever been regarded as a natural. The new law, if permitted to become wholly operative in Lake County, will deprive Judge Persons of the political leverage it has meant to him in past years.

Undoubtedly the handling of welfare matters in the past has built up a prestige for Judge Persons among dependents and families of dependents. He has been recognized as the one man in Lake county who

"There is hereby created and established in each county of less than 500,000 inhabitants a County Department of Public Welfare. Such County Department of Public Welfare shall consist of a Superintendent of Public Welfare and an administrative staff."

Chap. 34, Sec. 67.3. Powers and Duties of County Superintendent of Public Welfare.

(a) To have charge of and develop plans for the administration of old age assistance.

(b) To have charge of and develop plans for the administration of "An Act to provide aid to dependent children, to make appropriations therefor and to repeal an Act heretofore enacted by the Sixty-second General Assembly."

(c) To investigate and study problems of assistance, corrections and general welfare within the county.

(d) To co-operate with the State Department of Public Welfare in the operation of welfare plans and policies within the county.

passes out such aid. Now, according to the law, the judge may be relieved of much of the work connected with public welfare. Has the judge cooperated fully with the newly created department or has he been reluctant to abandon the political advantages his one-man control of these dependency cases has meant to him during past years?

Persons and Tax Matters

The judge's "hand-off policy" regarding situations laden with "political dynamite" is shown by his refusal to even investigate an alleged irregularity in the publication of delinquent tax lists in 1938. At least four of the townships delinquent lists were alleged to have appeared in newspapers not qualified as legal organs. The matter was brought to the attention of the judge informally on Sept. 23, 1938, and enough sufficient evidence was available to create doubt regarding the legality of the publications. Judge Persons washed his hands of the matter, saying, "There is nothing I can do about it." On the following Monday, Sept. 26, Judge Persons rendered a blanket judgment for the sale of hundreds of acres of real estate which were indicated to have had no legal publication. The deal involved other Lake county office holders who likewise "could do nothing about it." The whole transaction was mighty unlike a race.

Imagine that! A county judge who is in complete charge of the legal phase of tax matters, charged by law and sole power of impeachment. Furthermore it has the privilege of choosing the president of the United States in case no one candidate should receive a majority of the electoral vote.

Lake County in Tenth
Lake county is in the Tenth Congressional District, which comprises all of Lake and part of Cook county. Its representative is George A. Paddock, Republican, who is a candidate for re-election. Ralph E. Church, former representative, is also a candidate on the Republican ballot. Democratic candidates in the primary are Jack Bairstow and Alexander Moody.

The Illinois Legislature

The legislative, or law-making, power of the state is vested in the general assembly, commonly referred to as the state legislature, which consists of a senate and a house of representatives. The members of both houses are elected by the people. The regular session of the legislature commences on the Wednesday next after the first Monday in January following the state election in November. All extra sessions are called by the Governor.

The legislature in its biennial sessions considers various measures which are proposed for enactment into law. A proposed law is known as a bill during its consideration in the legislature. A bill may be introduced in either house. There must always be three separate presentations in each house on three different days, though it is not necessary, nor customary for the two houses to consider the same bill on the same day. During the progress of a bill in the general assembly, it is said to have reached the "second reading" or is up for a "third reading" or final passage.

For the two year term, each member of the general assembly receives a salary of $5,000, which is payable during the first regular session of the assembly held after the general election in November.

The Senate

The senate is composed of fifty-one members, one from each of the senatorial districts of the state. Senators from the even numbered districts are elected at the same time as the Governor, in the years divisible by four. The senate elects a president pro tempore, who is a member of the senate and who serves when the lieutenant governor for any reason is not present.

All impeachments are tried by the senate and it takes a two-thirds vote of all senators elected to convict. If the governor of the state is tried the chief justice presides.
Lake in Eighth District
Lake county is in the eighth senatorial district, comprising the counties of Lake, McHenry and Boone, and has a total population of about 173,607, with Lake county as the most populous unit—121,094, McHenry county 37,311 and Boone county, 15,202.

The present senator is Ray Paddock, State Representative.

The house of representatives is composed of one hundred and fifty-three members—three members from each of the fifty-one senatorial districts. The entire body is elected every even numbered year.

Minority Representation
There are three members of the house of representatives elected at the same time in every senatorial district, and every voter has the right to vote for the three candidates, giving each one vote; for two candidates giving each a vote and a half, or for one candidate, giving him three votes. A voter also may give two votes to one candidate and one to another.

By this plan the party in the minority can usually elect one man by having but one candidate and giving him all the votes. Usually the party in the majority nominates two candidates and the party in the minority nominates one candidate. In this case a nomination is equivalent to an election. When two parties are of nearly equal strength each one may nominate two candidates. In this case voters will give their favorite candidate three votes instead of one and a half for each of two candidates. This is called "plumping" and may sacrifice party to personal interests.

Official returns compiled by the secretary of state's office in Springfield indicate that there was a total of 63,004 votes cast by both parties in the primaries of April 9, 1940. The vote was tabulated as follows:

County	Democratic	Republican
Lake	10,200	31,925
McHenry	4,220	10,602
Boone	864	5,191
	15,284	47,718

The above figures represent the number of ballots cast in the district, however the legislative vote totals could possibly have been larger, due to "plumping." For example, a precinct having 100 registered voters might "plump" solidly for a favorite candidate for the legislature, each voter giving him three votes, this indicating a voting strength of 300 in a precinct having only 100 voters.

The Republican party will nominate two candidates and the Democrats one candidate in the forthcoming primary in the Eighth District.

County Offices

County Judge

The county judge is the judge of the county court. The county court deals with local administrative problems, and it has exclusive jurisdiction in cases involving the care of the insane, insolvent debtors' proceedings, and assignments for the benefit of creditors. It also has jurisdiction in disputed elections and the assessment and collection of taxes. It has concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit court in appeals from justices of the peace, in drainage matters, and eminent domain cases.

Because of the unusual clause in the constitution conferring upon the county court, "such other jurisdiction as may be provided for by general law," the county court has a wider and more varied jurisdiction than any other of our courts of record.

The county judge also may hear civil cases where the amount in controversy does not exceed two thousand dollars, and he also conducts trial of persons charged with misdemeanors. (A misdemeanor is a law infraction where the punishment is not imprisonment in the penitentiary or death.) This brings the county judge into the criminal sphere of judicial supervision.

Probate Jurisdiction

In counties of less than $5,000 inhabitants, the county court has original jurisdiction in all matters relating to the settlement of estates of deceased persons; the appointment of guardians of minors and conservators of the insane and feeble-minded, and the settlement of their accounts, and in all matters relating to apprentices.

County judges are elected every fourth year at the general election on Tuesday after the first Monday in November, of the "off year," or non-presidential election date.

Under the "new practices act," which became effective Jan. 1, 1934, there are no stated terms of either the county courts or the probate courts. They are open continuously, except (continued on page 9)

FRIENDS ENDORSE

Judge Martin C. DECKER

for Renomination and Election as

PROBATE
JUDGE

TO THE VOTERS OF LAKE COUNTY:

We respectfully submit and recommend the candidacy of Judge Martin C. Decker for renomination as Probate Judge.

From the standpoint of money involved our Probate Court transacts a greater volume of business than any other such court in Illinois outside of Cook County. Three hundred forty-two new estates were filed last year. This is an important office. Few realize that in the now pending estates of minors and incompetent persons alone a total of more than ten millions of dollars is involved, and the Probate Judge is charged with the responsibility of passing on all investments made by guardians and conservators. The Probate Judge should be a man of mature and well seasoned judgment in business matters.

Judge Decker has exhibited a fine judicial temperament in his work on the bench. He has been kind, courteous and fair in his handling of all matters submitted to him. There never has been a change of venue taken from him, and neither side has asked for a jury in contested matters in his court within the past ten years. He should be renominated.

VOTE FOR HERMAN C. LITCHFIELD

Republican Candidate for COUNTY JUDGE

PRIMARIES, TUESDAY, APRIL 14, 1942

Among many matters over which County Court has jurisdiction, juvenile delinquencies are of major importance. In the consideration of cases involving juvenile offenders, the following program is submitted as approved practice in other Counties, and should be adopted in our County Court:

Use of the facilities provided by the Department of Public Welfare, State of Illinois.

Establishment of case histories and case studies of each case prior to adjudication of the subject matter involved.

Use of facilities of local agencies such as are afforded by the Big Brothers and Big Sisters in the solution of child problems, and the assistance of other similar agencies in appropriate cases for supervision and guidance of juvenile offenders, rather than commitments to institutions penal in character.

Solution of youth problems without Court proceedings whenever possible, so that Court records may not operate as a stigma on the character of the child upon reaching maturity.

Industry and Ability Aided Doolen's Rise

Candidate for County Judge Made His Own Way at an Early Age

Paul D. Doolen, Republican candidate for county judge of Lake county, has served as probate officer of the Lake county circuit court, supervising attorney for the Home Owners' Loan corporation in northern Illinois, and as clerk to a judge of the Illinois appellate court. He has practiced law in Lake county since 1931.

He is a member of the Lake County Republican Central committee and has been active in Republican affairs in the county since 1931, but is seeking office for the first time.

He is a member of the Illinois State and Lake County Bar associations, the Waukegan-North Chicago real estate board, the J-M club and the Waukegan-North Chicago chamber of commerce. He is also active in the Waukegan University club, Delta Tau Delta, the Harvard club of Chicago and the Elks and Moose lodges.

Industry and ability have helped Doolen to make his way. He was born at Vernon, Ill., one of 12 children and, like Benjamin Franklin, is a seventh son of a seventh son.

Managed Resort
For seven summers during his school years he managed a summer resort at Gages lake. He earned his way through the University of Illinois, where he was president of the Senior Honor society and the Athletic Board of Control. He was graduated from Harvard law school, and took up his practice in Lake county. He resides in Waukegan.

Doolen is married and has two children.

If elected Doolen pledges himself to:
1. Conduct a court so that litigants and lawyers will use it and thereby justify the present expense of it.
2. Deal fairly with all, and co-operate with law enforcing officials.
3. Humane conduct and supervise delinquent cases.

Democrats Oppose Bolger; Endorse Koziol for Assembly

Claim Incumbent Has Made No Effort to Build up Democratic Party

The Democratic chances for winning both county and state offices in 1942 fall were declared by speakers at the Democratic Central committee meeting Saturday night in Waukegan, to be more favorable than ever before. Walter Koziol, of North Chicago, candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Representative, was endorsed.

Atkinson Well Qualified For Sheriff Office

Chief Deputy Has Served Sheriff's Department Since 1935

A member of the Lake county sheriff's staff since 1935 and chief deputy since December, 1938, Walter E. Atkinson, candidate for sheriff in the Republican primary election to be held April 14, is cited as having important qualifications of experience and ability.

Atkinson's political career began in 1921, when he was elected city treasurer of North Chicago.

He was elected mayor of North Chicago in 1925, serving for five successive terms. He retired from that office upon the expiration of his term in 1935, because during the preceding year he had accepted the post of financial deputy under Lawrence A. Doolittle, then sheriff of Lake county.

He was appointed chief deputy sheriff by Thomas E. Kennedy in 1938.

Atkinson was asked to become a candidate for sheriff at a meeting held recently by a group of 100 non-partisan voters who pledged him their support.

Born on a farm in Libertyville township, Oct. 19, 1892, Atkinson attended the public schools and Waukegan Township High school.

He now resides with his wife, Margaret, and children, Walter and Margaret, in their home at 1616 Park avenue, North Chicago.

In his youth Atkinson was fond of athletics, especially baseball, in which he created an enviable record. While employed in local industry, his friends urged him to become a candidate for political office, and it was upon their advice that he began his political career.

Over incumbent Tom Bolger of McHenry county, who has been in the legislature since 1930. Koziol, in addressing the Central committee, contended that Bolger during this time had made no real effort to build up the Democratic party in his own county and that this year they had no candidates in the field. He pledged to do whatever possible for the general party interests in Boone and McHenry counties, as well as in Lake county, if he were nominated and elected. Other candidates who were endorsed by the committee were:

United States Senator—Raymond McKeough
State Treasurer—W. D. Forsyth
Congressman-at-large—Benjamin S. Adamowski
State Supt. of Public Instruction—John A. Wieland
Congressman, 10th Dist.—Jack Baislow
State Representative—Walter Koziol
County Judge—Philip W. Yager
County Clerk—Ivan R. Harlow
Probate Judge—Robert P. Sullivan
Probate Clerk—Charles Cerniak, Jr.
County Treasurer—Anton Macerowski, Jr.
County Supt. of Schools—Henry C. Eads.

Rep. H. D. Kelsey Is Conscientious Representative

Lake Co. Man Has Made Outstanding Record in Legislature

Farmers, owners of small business concerns, labor groups and educators are among those who are said to be backing Harold D. Kelsey of Lake county to the Illinois state legislature for his third term as representative from the Eighth district.

Kelsey served as vice-chairman of the important committee on agriculture of which Rep. Dennis Collins, of DeKalb was chairman. Since Collins is now a candidate for the state senate, Kelsey, if re-elected will automatically step up to the chairmanship of the agriculture committee.

During each of his two terms he has been commended highly by the Illinois Agricultural association and last August the Illinois Agricultural Association Record gave Kelsey 100 percent credit for his support of farm measures.

For his aid to small dealers, he was commended by the Federation of Retail Associations.

He has also been given substantial support by labor groups.

Kelsey has been endorsed by teachers and school boards for his 100 percent record on school legislation.

Kelsey feels that one of his worthwhile achievements in the legislature has been his part in bringing about needed reforms in the relief set-up in Illinois. He was a member of the Sixth Investigation commission and his recommendations were enacted into law.

He believes in devoting himself closely to his duties, and also in keeping in close touch with those he represents. Hundreds of requests received by him from all parts of the Eighth district have been given prompt attention by him.

Commended by Speaker.

At the close of the last session of the legislature he received a letter of commendation from Speaker Elmer J. Schnuckenberg and also one from the majority leader, F. W. Kennick, thanking him for the valuable aid he had given in the role of one of the assistant floor leaders—to which important post he had been assigned by the Republican leaders.

Kelsey "points" with considerable "pride" to his legislative record. During sessions of the 62nd general assembly, more than 2,000 bills were introduced. Hundreds of the bills received no consideration whatever, being regarded as without merit. The average number of bills passed per member was about three.

Kelsey, however, made an outstanding record in the number of bills he introduced and the number of bills which passed. Before offering any bill he carefully studied its merits. As a result, 14 of the 17 bills he sponsored became laws.

Siver's Friends ...

been sparing of his time or talent and he has appeared wherever and whenever his services have been demanded. Besides singing for the hospital veterans and the Great Lakes Naval station regularly on holidays, he has sung in every church in Waukegan and most of the churches in the county.

His son, Robert G. Siver, who also possesses musical talent, was crowned national trombone champion in 1941. Robert will complete his fourth year at the Missouri Military Academy at Mexico, Mo., this May and will receive a commission as second lieutenant upon his graduation on May 29. He will be assigned to active duty on June 8 at the age of 18 years.

Son of Pioneers

Intimate friends of "Bud" Siver know that he is a descendant of a pioneer family whose home has been in Lake county for 92 years. He is the son of Chillion and Catherine Effinger Siver and he was born in Russell in Newport township in 1896. By rare coincidence the day and date of his birth happen to be identical with this year's primary election date—April 14. He moved to Waukegan when five years old and made his home with foster parents for several years until the re-marriage of his father. He was graduated from the Old North school and worked his way through high school at the carpentry trade.

Wounded in France

Following a course in accountancy at the Waukegan Business college he became chief accountant of the Chicago Board of Trade, which position he resigned to enlist in the United States army in the world war. He served in France with the 130th Infantry and was severely wounded in action in October 1918.

He is past commander of the Homer Dahlinger Post 241, American Legion and past president of the Waukegan Lions club. For six years during the depression period he served as a member of the Waukegan city school board, and his associates will tell you it was due in great part to Siver's wise counsel that the city's excellent school system remained at high efficiency during those lean years.

"Bud" Siver's friends are proud to present a civic-minded business man, who has always been active in promoting the general welfare of the public as a candidate for clerk of the probate court. They believe he is well qualified for the office and that he will serve faithfully and well.

Cong. Paddock ...

non-essential spending out of appropriation. These accomplishments alone are enough to warrant return of this valuable man to Congress.

The Woman's Republican club of New Trier and the Woman's Republican club of Evanston are among the organizations that have endorsed Paddock's candidacy. Also working in behalf of a committee of 33 members, chairmaned by Gen. Charles G. Dawes. The membership of the committee includes many ex-soldiers prominent in the affairs of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, United Spanish American War Veterans and similar organizations.

Unafraid of Criticism

"Paddock's fearlessness in 'standing up' for the principles which he believes right and which he feels best represent the feelings of those who elected him is exemplified in an address he gave in the house of representatives March 19.

He said, in part: "The American people are determined to win this war speedily and completely, at the least possible cost in blood and treasure. It is our duty as representatives to bring about this result."

"We must rely on the leaders of our armed forces to plan and achieve the military victory. The American back and front and front will be all ways, in a direct line."

"We in the Congress have our special share in the work. We must see that the money won in the field is not squandered at home. The man who risks his life must not return to find his country charged with mismanagement. Our national resources will be strained to the breaking point by the necessary cost of a genuine war effort. They must not be further drained by extravagance. More than ever there is an urgent need for tight economy."

"There must be immediate economy. There must be keen vigilance efficiency in all Government operations. Until I believe that Washington was behind the rest of the country in getting down to realistic effort."

"Now, vigorous, intelligent, team work is increasing. The same vigor, courage and determination that have made us world leaders in industry are penetrating the management of our war effort. Washington is on its way to be the powerhouse for all our enormous undertakings."

"We Must Act Together"
"The important thing to do is for all of us, the congress and business, and every other element in American life, to act together to win this war."

"There must be no wartime profiteering. Those who contribute to the war effort in money, management or labor must not go beyond a reasonable return. The tax collectors must prohibit excessive profits, and our factories must work to their maximum power."

"These things our people have a right to demand, and these things they will require of us. A nation whose businesses and factories have been suddenly closed or transferred to different work is in no mood to tolerate a government which is not equally responsive to the costs of war. Taxpayers whose burdens cost not only the luxuries but the necessities of life will demand the best possible use of their payments. The men in uniform, and their anxious families, rely on us for service as loyal and as disciplined as their own. . . . We can and must enforce economy and efficiency, and promote an all-American teamwork by which every section, and every citizen, can work well together."

One of Legion Founders
Paddock served in the 342nd infantry, 8th division, in the first World War, first as captain and later as major. He was a member of the convention at St. Louis in 1919, that founded the American Legion. He is congressional member of the Illinois Soldiers and Sailors' Service council.

He is a congressman who believes in giving those whom he represents an "accounting" of the way in which he has represented them. Last fall he made known a detailed report of all bills he had voted on, and measures he had introduced, during the period from Jan. 3, to Oct. 1, 1941—a measure that was deemed "unorthodox" by veteran political observers, who commented that most political figures choose to remain silent on their official affairs until just before primary or election time. Paddock, however, apparently has not hesitated to be "unorthodox" when he feels it suits the interests of the people.

Speaks for Itself

It is a record of attendance at every daily session and consideration at all times of the needs of his district.

There has been no playing to the galleries, no purely partisan motives or dodging of issues in Nick Keller's record. He has been steadfast in his determination to support only essential legislation. He holds the important position of chairman of the house committee of 40 members on industrial affairs, an appointment by the speaker of the house which should be regarded as a distinct honor to the Eighth district. He also holds memberships on six other important committees.

Has Supported All Farm Measures

No other member of the state legislature has a finer or a more consistent record of voting on all bills beneficial to the DAIRY FARMER and agriculture, generally, and to the WORKER and the small BUSINESSMAN. He has been inspired in this by a desire predominant at all times, to raise the standards of living for the less privileged.

Backs All Educational Bills

During the several years that he has been a member of the state legislature he has voted for every measure designed to improve the educational systems in the rural districts, cities and villages and the state. This policy of consistency has won him the respect of every member of the state legislature—a respect that has enabled him to obtain the passage of much legislation of benefit to the citizens of this district.

Sponsors Important Legislation

Among the bills sponsored by him and which were ENACTED INTO LAWS at the last session of the legislature are: Guarantee to men in armed service that their jobs will be restored to them when they return to private life. Financial aid for dependent children. Provisions that all employees on public buildings and works projects be paid on the basis of the PREVAILING WAGE RATES in each locality and employers public bodies awarding contracts to determine and fix the prevailing rates of pay. House joint resolution memorializing Congress to clear the name of Brig. Gen. Wm. H. Mitchell, who was court-martialed because he crusaded for a powerful air force for the United States. Congress subsequently acted in accordance with the Keller resolution.

W. J. "BILL" SMITH WELL QUALIFIED FOR STATE POST

Former Lake Co. Publisher
Candidate for 8th Dist.
Representative

Well remembered as a Lake county publisher, William (Bill) J. Smith is a "dark horse" candidate for Republican nomination to the Illinois general assembly from the Eighth senatorial district, composed of Lake, McHenry and Boone counties.

Smith will be remembered by his many Lake county friends as the editor and publisher of the Waukegan Daily Sun and the Libertyville Independent for about 20 years. No one who knows Bill Smith can question his qualifications for the office he seeks, his friends and supporters declare.

He served for seven years as a member of the Illinois commerce commission, but has never sought any elective office.

Smith was born in Volo and later moved to the village of McHenry, where he lived for ten years. His family afterward moved to Waukegan, and he has been a Lake county resident ever since.

Pledges Best Efforts

In announcing his candidacy, Smith states:

"Events have been precipitated so rapidly and new problems have arisen in such numbers that I have come to realize that perhaps I can be of service to the people of my country and district at a time when every loyal American should contribute in some manner to help carry on."

"I feel that the readers of my publications will remember me as a sincere, fearless and faithful representative of the people and their interests."

"These are critical times, times when coming legislation in our state and all others must be carefully considered; times when huge sums of money will be spent; times when good judgment in passages of laws and expenditure of money must be shown by those entrusted with the responsibility such as your legislators."

"If you feel that by my experience in civic and public affairs I am qualified to represent your interests efficiently, honestly and courageously, I will appreciate your support."

"I want to give you my promise that if you do nominate and elect me to the legislature, you will never be called upon to apologize for any discreditable act on my part, you will never have to urge me to express my views on important legislative matters, for you will always find me fighting for what I think is right according to my best judgment."

BOLGER for Representative

During his 12 years as State Representative Thomas A. Bolger has served on most of the important committees of the House, including Agriculture, Appropriations, Public Welfare and Revenue. Considered one of the best posted members on tax and revenue problems, he has twice been appointed chairman of the important committee on Revenue. At the last regular session he was one of two downstate members selected to investigate the tax delinquency situation in Cook county.

On several occasions he has co-operated with Lake County public officials in securing desired legislation. Especially noteworthy were his efforts in behalf of the Lake County Tuberculosis Sanatorium Board in successfully sponsoring legislation that made possible the financing of the new Sanatorium at Waukegan.

A farmer himself Representative Bolger has been alert and active to protect the interests of the dairy farmers.

Legislative representatives of farm organizations at Springfield can vouch for many instances of his active support of desired farm legislation.

Prior to his first election to the legislature in 1930 Rep. Bolger served six years as a member of his local community high school Board of Education and four years as a member of the McHenry County Board of Review.

Experienced, able, and dependable, he brings to the voters of the district the record of loyal, efficient public service. He deserves support, not on promises, but on a record of accomplishment.

Notable Career Aids Litchfield in Judge Race

Candidate for County Judge
Is Ex-Navy Man and Outstanding Lawyer

A career notable for its patriotic, civic and professional service is that of Herman C. Litchfield, Waukegan lawyer who is a candidate for Lake county judge to succeed Perry L. Persons.

Litchfield has been actively engaged in the practice of law in Lake county since 1920. He is a past president of the Lake County Bar association and of the Seventh Judicial District Bar association, which includes the counties of Lake, Cook, Will, DuPage and Kane.

He is a former member of the board of governors of the Illinois State Bar association, and is now on its military affairs committee, serving on the Lake County selective service advisory board, and is a member of the American Bar association.

Litchfield's interests extend to community and civic service in many ways.

On Hospital Board

He is a past chairman of the Forward division of the Waukegan-North Chicago chamber of commerce. He has for 18 years been a member of the governing board of Victory Memorial hospital, a non-profit association. He is at present treasurer of the association, and has served as its president in the past.

Litchfield is a sustaining member of the Lake Bluff orphanage, and a sponsor of the Libertyville Boys' club. He is affiliated with the Episcopal church. His social and fraternal interests include the Moose, Elks, Masons and Waukegan Exchange club.

He has been active in the interests of the Republican party and is vice-chairman of the Lake County Republican Central committee.

Was Navy Man

Litchfield was in the service of the U. S. navy department before, during and after the first World War, and his interest in navy affairs has continued to bear fruit in tangible form since then.

He was chairman of the committee which endeavored to have the naval training station at Great Lakes reopened in 1933, and which continued its efforts for the ensuing two years, with the result that in 1935 the station was reopened. It is now established as one of the largest and best naval training stations in the world, and is filling an important place in the U. S. defense program.

DECKER CANDIDACY IS APPROVED BY BARRISTER FRIENDS

Lawyers Lend Aid to Veteran Jurist in Campaign for Re-election

Declaring that Judge Martin C. Decker has exhibited a fine judicial temperament on the Probate court bench, lawyer friends of the veteran jurist this week gave strong endorsement to his campaign for re-election for a sixth term. The statement also declares that "He has been kind, courteous and fair in his handling of all matters submitted to him. There has never been a change of venue taken from him, and neither side has asked for a jury in contested matters in his court within the past ten years. He should be re-nominated."

This spoke the lawyers. The names appended to the statement were: Eugene M. Runyard, Alexander F. Deaubien, John Logan Boyles, Albert L. Hall, and Frank M. Daly.

State's Second Largest Court
From the standpoint of money involved the Lake county Probate court transacts a greater volume of business than that of any other such court in Illinois outside of Cook county. Three hundred forty-two new estates were filed last year. At present, pending estates of minors and incompetent persons alone total more than ten millions of dollars. The probate judge is charged with the responsibility of passing on all investments made by guardians and conservators.

First Elected in 1922

Judge Decker is the only probate judge Lake county has ever had. He was first elected just after the office was created in 1922, and since that time he has successfully weathered every campaign to remain in office, although he has been opposed by able men, both Democrats and Republicans.

In his present campaign for the Republican nomination Judge Decker is opposed by Charles E. Mason, former state's attorney of Lake county. The successful G. O. P. candidate will be opposed in the November election by Robert P. Sullivan, who is unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

IS SILENCE GOLDEN--- OR GOOD POLITICS, IS IT JUST 'ELOQUENT?'

It has now been four weeks since the Antioch News printed a rather complete expose of Judge Perry L. Persons' "technique of politics," or how to hold office for 32 years, and so far as the News is able to ascertain, to this date and hour the Judge has not publicly or privately refuted one word therein contained.

Likewise Probate Clerk Allen J. Nelson has remained silent regarding his transactions with "Publisher" Sidney S. Moore in 1938, the last year he was county treasurer, and which the News exposed two weeks ago.

Maybe there is nothing to say. However, anything can happen in politics, and Lake county citizens are reminded that an eleventh hour gesture may be attempted in order to save political hide. The News has long anticipated the staging of a canard of this character in an effort to discredit the News and delude the public. In this eventuality henchmen, political bed-fellows and bondsmen would do well to "bail out."

Veteran Is Candidate For Co. School Head

Henry C. Eads of Waukegan, Democratic candidate for the office of Lake county superintendent of schools, is a teacher of more than 20 years' experience in rural and high schools. He served as lieutenant of artillery in the first World War.

He holds a Master's degree and principal's diploma from Columbia university. Since 1928 he has taught commercial work and social science classes at Waukegan Township High school. He is vice-president of the P. T. A. there and is air raid warden in his district.

Keller's Fine Record Asset in Campaign For Re-nomination

Friends See Victory for
G. O. P. Senior
Assemblyman

State Representative Nick Keller, senior Republican assemblyman from the Eighth district, loomed today as the leading candidate for re-nomination at the polls April 14, according to a survey just completed by friends of the legislator.

Citizens from all walks of life in Lake, McHenry and Boone counties, which comprise the district, were wholeheartedly behind Rep. Keller's bid for a return to the state legislature for a fourth term, a canvass disclosed.

Dairymen, farmers, educators, laboring men, small-businessmen, property owners, and men in all branches of the armed forces voiced their preference for Keller on the enviable record he has compiled in the face of strong opposition.

In the last session he was chairman of the important House committee on industrial affairs and was a prominent member of the Military Affairs, Efficiency and Economy, Liquor Regulation, Fish and Game, Railroads, Aviation and Transportation, and Waterways committees.

Besides fighting constantly for all legislation beneficial to dairymen, agriculture, labor and small business, Rep. Keller sponsored three bills that are now considered vitally important laws in Illinois. They are:

1. The law guaranteeing that men called into armed forces will have their jobs back when they finish their service.

2. The law providing aid for dependent children which will reduce the high cost of delinquency.

3. The law requiring the payment of prevailing wages to all employees on public works.

Always declaring that the late Gen. William (Billy) L. Mitchell had been unjustly court-martialed because the high army man dared to question "brass hat" authority and crusaded for the most powerful air force in the world, Keller negotiated a joint resolution directed at Congress to memorialize the former general. Congress acted in line with the Keller resolution.

"General Douglas MacArthur and I have something in common," the veteran representative quietly said. "We both believed in and idolized General Mitchell. It is regrettable that he is not alive today to help General MacArthur."

Representative Keller was born in the Eighth district and prior to his elevation to the state legislature, was elected to two four-year terms as commissioner of public works in the city of Waukegan. He is a former serviceman, and is closely identified with youth movements, and is keenly interested in athletics, receiving more than local notice as a talent scout for big league baseball.

Mr. Keller is married, has two children and resides on Sheridan Rd., north of Waukegan.

6 ways to save money with your Gas Range!

1 Don't waste fuel. After a liquid has started to boil, you can save by turning the gas down to "simmer heat" without lowering the temperature of the liquid.

2 Plan economical "oven meals" at least twice a week. Cook an entire dinner in the oven—you'll find menus in many cooking columns and cook books.

3 Don't let burners get clogged up. If something boils over, be sure to clean the burner before using it again—otherwise, it may not operate efficiently.

4 Once a week, serve a cheaper cut of meat, roasted at low temperature to save fuel and prevent shrinkage. Cook vegetables in a minimum amount of water.

5 Use tight-covered pans with straight sides. This conserves heat, saves gas. Provides "waterless cooking", which retains natural vitamins in food.

6 Use your gas range for canning and preserving during seasons when certain foods are cheap...or for saving foods right from your garden.

MANY people these days are seeking new methods of saving money. The most satisfactory savings plan, they find, is the one that systematically cuts down expenses without cutting down benefits.

Here are 6 proved ways of cutting down cooking expense on your gas range—while the nutritive value of your meals is actually improved. For instance, "waterless cooking", made possible by the correct use of your gas range, keeps the vitamins and minerals you pay for in the food, where they belong.

Tear this out of your paper—post it near your gas range—and you'll soon note the effect of the savings, both in money and in nutritious meals!

that they may adjourn from time to time at their discretion.

Because of the varied jurisdiction of the county court, which affects the people in so many different aspects the judge of that court is one of the most important officers to be selected by the electorate.

The salary of the County Judge is $6,000 a year.

Probate Judge

In counties having more than 85,000 inhabitants a probate judge and a probate clerk must be elected to attend to the probate business of the county. In such counties the county court has only law jurisdiction. The probate judge and probate clerk are elected at the same time as the county judge and county clerk and they serve for the same length of time.

Specifically the probate judge administers the estates of deceased and incompetent persons and of minor children, or the estates of persons who have been adjudged insane in the county court. The probate judge appoints administrators for intestate estates, guardians for minors, and conservators for incompetents; approves their bonds and hears and allows claims against such estates; supervises the reports of administrators, and if correct, approves them. He is charged with the duty of seeing that the funds of such estates are conserved, or invested only in accordance with the law. He has the power to punish by contempt proceedings and otherwise all personal representatives who do not administer their trust as administrator, guardian or conservator, exactly in accordance with law.

Matters relating to apprentices are rarely heard in these modern days, but the jurisdiction still exists.

The probate judge and the county judge are permitted, by law, to hold court for each other and to perform each other's duties in their own or any other county when it is found necessary or convenient.

The salary of the probate judge is $6,000 a year.

The probate court of Lake county was established in 1922, and Martin C. Decker was elected as judge, in which office he has served continuously. Judge Decker is a candidate for re-nomination and election.

from the County Court, having been divided December 1, 1922.

The work of this court is caring for the estates of deceased persons, minors and incompetents, and is very important, as the title to property by inheritance or by will is as legal as by deed.

The Clerk of the Probate Court is required to file, record, and preserve all papers filed in estates, record all Court orders, and keep a docket, index and register of estates, attend all Court sessions, keep an accurate account of all money received and paid out and report the same to the Board of Supervisors twice a year.

In Lake county a large volume of business passes through the office of the probate clerk. Capacity for exacting detail, and ability and willingness to attend courteously to all matters relating to estates and to the proceedings of the court, would seem essential qualifications a voter should look for in candidates for this important office.

County Clerk

There is no office in the county that handles a larger volume of work than does the county clerk's office. There is practically no item of county business that does not at one stage or another pass through the hands of the county clerk or his deputies, and the exacting duties connected with the office are so manifold that they touch upon or are intimately connected with the transactions of nearly every other office.

The county clerk is ex-officio clerk of the county court. He is also clerk of the county board of supervisors, in which capacity he is required to record all proceedings of the board, file and preserve all bills of account that are acted upon by the supervisors. He issues county warrants upon the county treasurer in payment of bills and other disbursements from the county fund.

In this office are filed all records of bonds, papers and records, and the county clerk must furnish certified copies of such documents when requested to do so.

Has Charge of Elections
The county clerk has charge of elections and the printing of ballots, and he must see that election boards are supplied with proper and adequate election materials.

After every general election, the county clerk and two justices of the peace of the county canvass the votes of the county and make abstracts showing the number of votes received by each candidate. These abstracts are filed in the county clerk's office.

Marriage licenses are issued by the county clerk or his authorized deputies, and here also are filed the birth and death records of the county.

Prepares Tax Books
Perhaps the biggest single job in this office is the writing of the assessor's and collectors' books, and the extension of taxes, which require an office force of over 20 persons for several weeks each year in order to complete the work within the time specified by statute. Every fourth year when the quadrennial real estate assessment is made a much larger number of assistants is required.

The volume of business transacted in this office has increased almost in exact ratio to the increase in population of the county. In 1910 the county clerk and three deputies handled all of the work, and the county at that time had a population of approximately 50,000. The present population exceeds 124,000 and the clerk's office force necessarily has been increased.

The earnings of the office are about $12,000 annually, which is turned over to the county treasurer.

The salary of the county clerk of Lake county is $4,000 a year, and in addition to this he receives certain extra fees for special work.

County Treasurer

The county treasurer must receive, safely keep, and pay out according to law all public money that may properly come into his hands. He must keep a complete record of the business of his office and the books containing the records are always open to inspection of the public.

Supervisor of Assessments
In counties under township organization and of less than 125,000 inhabitants, the county treasurer is ex-officio supervisor of assessments of taxes in his county. Lake county is in this class.

The treasurer must report to the county board at each of its regular meetings all sums received and paid out by him since his last report. These reports are filed in the county clerk's office, and subject to inspection of the public. Twice each year the county board must make a settlement with the treasurer and count the funds.

$5,000,000 Tax Bill
In Lake county the treasurer is collector of taxes. The county tax bill for the last decade has averaged over five million dollars annually.

Two per cent on inheritance serves to increase the earnings of the treasurer's office.

Aids County Revenue
In point of producing revenue for the county no office is even a close rival to that of county treasurer. In 1941 the office turned over to the county over $150,000.00.

estate for taxes, the law states (Chap. 120, Sec. 706) "Said advertisement shall be once published at least ten days previous to the day on which judgment is to be prayed, and shall contain a list of the delinquent lands and lots upon which the taxes or any part thereof remain due and unpaid. . . . And the said advertisement published according to the provisions of this section shall be deemed to be sufficient notice of the intended application for judgment and of the sale of lands and lots under the order of said court, or for judgment fixing the correct amount of any tax paid under protest."

"The affidavit of publication signed by the publisher of any such delinquent list states that 'said newspaper has been regularly published for one year previous to said publication.' That is the law."

Nelson Erred

It is claimed that Allen J. Nelson, county treasurer and supervisor of assessments in 1938, erred when he placed some of the township assessment rolls in Sidney S. Moore's so-called newspapers that could not qualify as legal organs. The townships alleged to have received false publications were Newport, Lake Villa, Avon and Wauconda. Nelson erred a second time when he caused the delinquent lists of the townships named to be published in Moore's non-legal newspapers. It follows that the lands and lots in these townships upon which judgments were rendered exposing them for sale were never legally advertised, and that any of the property owners involved may bring action in the courts in protest, thus clouding the titles of any lands or lots that may have been sold for taxes in 1938.

Following the publication of the assessment rolls in July, 1938, Treasurer Nelson was asked to "get his feet on the ground" before placing the delinquent lists for publication in September that same year. Nelson disregarded the friendly advice, indicating that the deal with Moore had already been made.

Confronted by a group of taxpayers with the accusation that he had allowed the delinquent lists to receive a phony publication, Nelson's somewhat confused reply was that he was satisfied that the "papers used were legal organs." Just what steps Mr. Nelson had taken to establish such "satisfaction" in his own mind he did not state. Further questioning revealed that he did not even know the persons who had signed some of the alleged delinquent affidavits—claiming the newspapers had been published continuously for one year previous to the printing of the delinquent lists.

Nelson Scoffs 300 Signatures

Against Nelson's brazen statement that legal newspapers were qualified legal organs there were the signatures of nearly 300 taxpayers in Wauconda township appearing on a document stating that Moore's "Wauconda Review" was never regularly circulated in that township. The names subscribed to the statement were business and professional people, local office holders, and reputable citizens of that locality. That is what would be termed a "preponderance of evidence" in any court—about 300 to 1—or 300 to 2, counting both Mr. Nelson and Sidney S. Moore, the publisher.

Why did Allen Nelson award five delinquent tax publications to Moore, who, according to all evidence available did not own or operate five publications that could qualify for these important publications? The Antioch News challenges Nelson or anyone else to produce files of all of Moore's newspapers showing continuous publication for a year previous to his transactions with the Fox Lake publisher.

"Review, Review, Review"

Avon township had a 53-year-old publication—The Grayslake Times—yet Nelson gave the delinquent list for that township to Moore's "Round Lake Review." Wauconda's delinquent list went to Moore's "Wauconda Review" (no legal standing) when it should have appeared in Walter Banks' excellent 45-year-old newspaper, The Wauconda Leader; Lake Villa's delinquent list, as well as the assessment roll in July, went to Moore's Lake Villa Review; and the Newport township list was published in a sheet that Moore claimed to be publishing in Benton township.

"Court House Incorporated" (For Profit)

Why was not something done about all this in 1938? The attempt was made, but thanks to the "big, happy family" in the court house, no competent official would act. Judge Persons, to whom is entrusted decisions in tax matters, was busy getting himself re-elected for the eighth time as county judge. Treasurer Nelson stood put on his brazen statement that the newspapers used were legal organs, (what else could he do?) evidently assuming that the taxpayers wronged through his transaction, with Sidney S. Moore were only small fry who would not, or could not, do anything about it anyway. Charles E. Mason, then state's attorney, refused a request for warrants for the arrest of Moore and his "stooges" who had signed the publisher's affidavits.

Justice in Lake County

There was only one course left open—the employment of a private attorney, which would have entailed enormous costs. Besides that, justice seemed to be a remote possibility since Judge Persons had already rendered a verdict by his refusal to investigate. Such a procedure, even if a change of venue had been asked and granted would have been a sordid commentary on the integrity of Lake county officials, and a course that would seem scarcely necessary since we have elected officials who are presumed to do their duty. That is what they are elected for and what they are paid for.

If the News is in error, Mr. Nelson has recourse in any court of his choosing. Then all the facts could be laid bare for all to see, and ponder, and wonder. It would be interesting too, to know whether Nelson acted on his own initiative, or whether he received advice and counsel from persons higher in authority or prestige in Lake county. Somewhere in the Illinois statute there appears some rather potent language regarding "aiding and abetting," also "conspiracy" to evade the law.

Citizens who honor a man by placing him in a position of public trust have the right to expect, and to demand that he follow the law in conducting the business of his office. Since Allen J. Nelson has demonstrated his disregard of law, for reasons he has yet to explain, he should be removed from office. The Antioch News DOES NOT recommend him for reelection to the office of probate clerk.

The treasurer's bond for the handling of county funds is $300,000, the premium of which is paid by the county, and in addition to this bond he must also furnish a bond of $300,000 for the handling of state funds.

Law Is Strict
The county board names depositaries for the county funds. Banks holding county funds are not to pay to, withhold for the benefit of, or contract in any manner for the payment to the county treasurer, or to any other person for him, any interest or other fee, or emolument on account of such deposit.

The Illinois statute stipulates that the making of a personal profit or emolument by the treasurer out of any county moneys by loaning, depositing or otherwise using or disposing of the same in any manner whatsoever, shall be deemed a felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than one or more than ten years.

An amendment to the state constitution was adopted in 1880, providing that no person having once been elected to the office of sheriff or treasurer shall be eligible to the same office for four years after the expiration of the term of office to which he was elected. The salary of the Lake county treasurer is $4,000 a year. There are no fees which the treasurer receives in return for his services.

Sheriff

The duties of the county sheriff are two fold—he is a police officer and he is also the executive agent of the courts.

These duties which relate to the keeping of the peace are known as police duties. He is responsible for the arrest and safe-keeping of persons charged with crime or misdemeanor, and he is custodian of the court house and jail.

It is his duty to suppress riots, fighting and all breaches of the peace, and to prevent crime within the confines of his county. He may arrest, with or without a warrant, persons whom he suspects are breaking the law, and take them before a magistrate. The sheriff sees that all prisoners are properly guarded and supplied with suitable food. When prisoners are sentenced to the penitentiary or reform school, the sheriff removes them thither. He causes the transportation of criminals condemned to death.

May Appoint Deputies

The sheriff may appoint deputies to assist him in his work. These deputies have all the powers of the sheriff, and their official acts are considered as acts of the sheriff, he being responsible in all cases for them.

The sheriff may have as many regular deputies as are required to conduct the affairs of his office and authorized by the county board of supervisors. In Lake county the sheriff has several deputies on salary and many special deputies in various parts of the county.

To keep the peace, prevent crime, or to execute any writ, warrant or process, order or decree, the sheriff may call to his aid when necessary, any person or the power of the county.

Agent of Courts
The major part of the sheriff's time is consumed by his duties as an executive agent of the courts. He, or his deputy is present at all sessions of the court and he opens and closes court with the formal proclamation. He is charged with the responsibility of serving writs, warrants, summonses, subpoenas and executions, and other papers that the court may issue.

A warrant directs the sheriff to arrest a certain person accused of crime.

A summons directs the sheriff to summon a certain person to appear in court to answer a demand made by another person named in the summons.

A subpoena commands a certain person to appear in court as a witness. An execution empowers the sheriff to carry a judgment into effect. A common form of execution is that which directs the sheriff to seize a certain property and sell it to pay the obligations of a person against whom a suit has been decided.

Not Eligible to Re-election

A person having once been elected to the office of sheriff is not eligible to re-election for four years after the expiration of the term for which he was elected.

In Lake county the sheriff's salary is $4,000 a year and he is allowed expenses when acting in his official capacity. The office also is entitled to certain fees.

Superintendent of Schools

The county superintendent of schools is charged with the distribution of the county's share in the state school funds. He gives advice to school boards and to local school officials. Under supervision of the state superintendent of public instruction, he conducts teachers' examinations and arranges for teachers' institutes.

The county superintendent of schools must keep an account of sales of common school lands in his county, and of all sums of money received and paid out. He must present a written report to the county board at its regular meeting in September. He apportions school money to the various townships.

In controversies arising under the school law the advice of the county superintendent must first be sought, but appeal may be taken to the state superintendent. The county superintendent stands much in the same relation to the school officers and teachers of the county as the state superintendent stands to those of the whole state.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. S. Heartened by Naval Offensive Against Jap Bases in South Pacific; Air Attacks on Port Darwin Continue As Allies Strike Back in New Guinea

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

L. Herbert Vere Evatt, left, Australian minister for external affairs, being greeted by Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles and Richard G. Casey, British minister of state in the Middle East, at the Washington airport. The selection of Casey, former Australian minister to Washington, to serve in the British cabinet, raised a controversy between Australian Prime Minister John Curtin and Winston Churchill. The Australian government disavowed Casey as an Australian representative.

ATTACK:

Navy Strikes Twice

A double-barreled attack by a navy task force, the same which had struck with devastating force on the Marshall and Gilbert islands, had been delivered on Wake Island and Marcus Island, the latter only 930 miles from Tokyo.

The latter attack sent Tokyo so badly that the city ordered blackouts for several days afterward, it was announced.

The delay in announcing these attacks apparently occurred because, in the first instance, the navy force was on the way from Wake to Marcus, and didn't want to "telegraph its punch" on the latter island.

As to the second attack, the need for delay was probably one of two factors, either that the navy force was moving on elsewhere, or else it was on its way back to Pearl Harbor for refueling and resupplying, probably the latter, as the dispatches came from there.

Considerable credit for the four attacks, as the latter two must be considered part of the general onslaught which included the Marshall and Gilbert islands, was given to the commander of the force, Vice Admiral W. F. Halsey.

In the first two the navy had lost a number of planes, but in the latter two battles, the only losses were two planes, both shot down by anti-aircraft fire.

Surprise had been an important factor in both attacks, because at Wake Island three four-motored sea planes had been found and destroyed before they got into the air, and at Marcus island no air strength of any kind was found.

It began to explain the need for censorship—for the Japs had a nearly completed airfield on the island, and certainly would have had planes there if they'd known our forces were on the way.

Ringside View

One reporter, riding on an aircraft carrier, reported that its planes dumped 12 tons of high explosives on Marcus island alone.

His ringside view of the significance of the battle was that it had shattered an important link in Japan's chain of island bases connecting the country with its southwest Pacific theater of war.

Marcus also had been referred to in dispatches as "Japanese Hawaii," being a base not only potentially great for planes, but for ships as well.

The Wake island attack was not completely a surprise, as the navy surface ships encountered a Jap gunboat seven miles off the island, and before she was sunk with one broadside, she was able to flash word to the shore that the "Yanks were coming."

The Marcus island attack was in the darkness, but the Wake island battle was in full daylight, the shelling starting at 7:05 a. m.

Just how little good a blackout does was shown at Marcus island, where a flight of bombing planes was sent over the island with flares, lighting their objectives, and the first few hits started such huge fires that the other bombing flights needed no flares.

Shortly after the attack on Marcus started the radio station went off the air abruptly. It had been struck by a demolition bomb and shot into the sky.

NYA:

Senators Argue

The press, plus Senators McKeeler and Byrd, continued its attacks on the NYA and the CCC, though President Roosevelt said that they both had their places in the war scheme and that he favored their retention.

The senators argued that the primary reason for the creation of the two agencies was to do something for youth during the depression and unemployment years. They are not needed, now, they said.

AUSSIES:

See Turning Point

Whether the Japs were going to turn aside from Australia and concentrate on India had remained considerable of a mystery, but certainly their attack on Australia's outposts had been slowed to a point where the Aussies began to see the "turning point" right around the corner.

Australian and American airmen were carrying out almost non-stop raids on New Guinea, the Solomons, New Britain and other objectives north of the continent, and their daily reports of planes destroyed showed that they were biting a considerable piece out of the Japanese strength in the air.

The Japs continued their bombing attacks on Port Darwin, also on Katherine, but the effectiveness was showing a downward curve. Apparently the main Japanese objective was Port Moresby, on the southern end of New Guinea, a perfect hop-off point for air attacks on north-east Australia.

By land, through a big valley on the island, they were approaching the Australians' defense positions around the Port, while through the air, from Salamaua and Lae, they had been raining bombs on the town, attempting to soften it up for attack by land.

It was at these two bases, Salamaua and Lae that the Australian and American bombers had been concentrating their attack. And the results had been favorable.

LABOR:

Co-operates in War

It was felt that organized labor had made an important contribution to winning the war, also to peace in industry during the war effort, by a decision reached simultaneously by the A. F. of L. and the C.I.O. to yield their demand for extra pay for holidays.

The executive board of the C.I.O. recommended to all its unions that they forego all overtime pay for Saturdays, Sundays and holidays when such work was done within the boundaries of the 40-hour week.

William Green of the A. F. of L. at the same time issued a statement that his organization had "assured the government that it would waive the double time payment for Sunday and holiday work in all war industries for the duration of the war."

Philip Murray, however, said he wanted it clear that the unions would not relinquish their demand for overtime for work done on the sixth or seventh days of the ordinary 40-hour work week, regardless of what days they fell on.

The request, union men said, had been made by President Roosevelt and War Production Board Chief Donald M. Nelson.

VOLUNTEERS:

Get 40 Planes

The initials AVG, American Volunteer group, or the "Tiger Fliers" of the United States, still held the spotlight of attention when it came to knocking out Japanese planes.

Their latest exploit had been to fly over the main Jap airdrome in Thailand, Chingmai, with such a perfectly timed offensive that they were able to shoot to pieces 40 enemy aircraft on the ground, before the Japs could get the motors warmed enough to get into the air.

The victory (like so many) had its tragic side, for the only plane lost to the Americans in this attack had brought death to the squadron leader, Jack Newkirk, of Seaside, N. Y.

The pilots returning to their base in Burma from the fray reported that most of the Japanese pilots of the grounded planes were killed, as instead of seeking cover, they ran to their ships and tried to get them started.

The Americans, diving low, machine-gunned the planes at close range, destroying most of them.

INDIES:

New Losses Reported In Battle of Java

The battle of the Indies was over, but not dead, for in the daily news came dispatches, some good, some bad, telling more about it all.

One, for instance, had raised the toll of the Battle of Java Sea for the United States by admitting the loss of two more "four-slacker" destroyers.

That they had partially escaped had been learned when the announcement said that they had last been heard from in the waters south of Java.

The Battle of Java Sea had been fought almost entirely north of Java. Favorable were the dispatches which had begun to filter through showing that Batavia was not the only point in the southwest Pacific where land resistance was continuing, for the Japs were reported being forced to retreat from some of their positions in Sumatra.

That the Aussies were cognizant of this fact had been seen in Prime Minister Curtin's message to the Dutch to hang on, that aid was coming to them in the form of an Australian and American offensive.

It was of the same tone as MacArthur's words to his men at Bataan, fighting under General Wainwright, that "I came through the Jap lines, and I'm coming back again."

CONDUCT:

Strange Union Case

One of the strangest cases in the annals of war work and organized labor had occurred in Detroit, where a girl had been accused by her fellow-workers.

This young woman, Genevieve Samp, 25, had a war job in a Detroit plant, and the charge was that she had been guilty of "conduct unbecoming a union member."

Technically she had been guilty, the union said, of causing trouble by disparaging the efforts of her fellow workers.

Members of the union had said if she was absolved, those bringing the charges would face trial.

The girl said this was what occurred: She had had the job of packing in boxes certain gadgets which came down a series of chutes, from automatic inspection machines.

The other girls were handling two chutes each, she and one other girl were handling three each. Miss Samp said "One girl squawked about me being a job-killer." She said she told the girl it was easy to handle three chutes. Wise-cracks went back and forth, she said, and she was suspended.

PARTS:

And Profits

An aircraft parts concern, the Jack and Heinz company, makers of airplane starters, which held $58,000,000 in government contracts.

WILLIAM S. JACK
A silver-lined aftermath.

after being organized in 1940 with $500 capital had furnished the nation's readers a brief scandal, then a silver-lined aftermath.

Testimony before a congressional investigating committee revealed that the concern distributed $650,000 to workers last Christmas, and that Jack's secretary was paid $39,356 last year and $18,295 for the first ten weeks of this year.

Some of this Washington could understand, but they questioned payment to the company's comptroller, a young man who came to work for $3,600 and 40 days later was handed a bonus of $11,000, and a few weeks later given another $1,200 bonus and a $1,200 salary raise.

The partners came back from Washington, announced a voluntary cut of their profits to 6 per cent, and that their own salaries would be cut to $15,000 a year each.

Their employees welcomed their return from Washington with loud cheers, and the banging of their tools on their benches when the partners said the bonus system to employees for heavy production would be continued.

Chungking: The Chinese troops and British troops, battling to hold a united front in North Burma, had been at least temporarily separated by a Jap spearhead drive near Tounghoo.

New York: By radio, a station here picked up the report from Berlin by a Japanese spokesman that "Japan may now be considered on the defensive."

EASTER SUNDAY

Methodist Church, Antioch, Illinois
The public is heartily invited to attend Easter services at 11 o'clock Sunday, April 5, 1942, at the Methodist Church in Antioch, Ill. There will be two special features in the service: A confirmation service for five of our young people who have been in training during the past few months. No such service has been held in this church in recent years. The other will be our annual Easter offering. Through the church in America it is being suggested that each one bring a 10¢ thank offering to the Lord, an amount equal to his Good Friday earnings. If all Christian people would make this their standard of giving this Easter would be of greater blessing to both the church and the giver than one could possibly dream of. Thus the cause of Christ would be strengthened for the unprecedented task with which it is faced. Will you be one of the millions to answer this call? Special music by two choirs.
Warren C. Henlee, Minister.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK THE RESURRECTION OF CHRIST

Contributed by the Baha'i Group
"The resurrections of the Divine Manifestations are not of the body. All the things they have established, their acts, their expressions, their parables, and their instructions have a spiritual and divine signification, and have no connection with material things."

Christ's resurrection from the interior of the earth is also symbolical; it is a spiritual and divine fact, and not material; and likewise His ascension to heaven is a spiritual and not material ascension.

It has been established and proved by science that the visible heaven is a limitless area, void and empty, where innumerable stars and planets revolve. Therefore the meaning of Christ's resurrection is this: the disciples were troubled and agitated after the martyrdom of Christ. The Reality of Christ, which signifies His teachings, His bounties, His perfections and His spiritual power, was hidden and concealed for three days after His martyrdom, and was not resplendent and manifest. No, rather it was lost; for the believers were few in number and were troubled and agitated. The Cause of Christ was like a lifeless body; and when after three days the disciples became assured and steadfast, and again began to serve the Cause of Christ, and resolved to spread the divine teachings, putting His counsels into practice, and arising to serve Him, the Reality of Christ became resplendent and His bounty appeared; His religion found life, His teachings and His admonitions became evident and visible. In other words, the Cause of Christ was like a lifeless body, until the life and bounty of the Holy Spirit surrounded it.

Such is the meaning of the resurrection of Christ, and this was true resurrection. But as many have not understood the symbols, it has been said that religion is in contradiction to science, and science in opposition to religion. For example, this subject of the ascension of Christ with an elemental body to the visible heaven is contrary to the science of mathematics. But when the truth of this subject becomes clear and the symbol is explained, science in no way contradicts it; but, on the contrary, science and the intelligence affirm it.

From "Some Answered Questions" by 'Abdu'l-Baha.
